Trail 716 Kidnappers Coast A scenic ride

☑ Moderate fitness: Flat terrain: Follow the Brown to the river, Lime Green to Clive & Green and Black lines to road end Clifton

Flat terrain: Drop of and collection at a point that suits you best!
This is a fantastic ride predominantly pathways following the rivers, sea and sea inlets where you can spot the bird life
24kms plus on country pathways, majestic river and spectacular coastal views, wine, gourmet delights and the quaint villages of Haumoana and Te Awanga...

Black Bridge to Road End 8.2kms
Black Bridge and return Black Bridge 16.5kms
Clive to Road End 14.5kms
Awatoto to Road end 17.5kms – this takes in crossing four new bridge attachments for cyclists
Cycle one way from Bike About Tours: 28kms,

From Bike About Tours base at Greenmeadows you have a 2.7km ride along Guppy Road to join the Tutaekuri Riverbank Pathway, turn left and make way to Awatoto (7kms) beside the sea turn right and follow the Pathway through the Waitangi Estuary, this 240 ha of wetland is where Muddy Creek, and the Ngaruroro, Tutaekuri and Clive Rivers meet the sea. The area provides a variety of wetland and coastal habitats that support a significant population of bird species, including heron and bittern, similar to that of the nearby Tukituki Estuary. Restoration of the estuary has provided improved wetland breeding areas for fish and birds, with planting and enhancement of water flows, a popular area for fishing, whitebaiting, boating, rowing and other sports.

Approximately 2kms further on - cycling the pathway - cross the Clive River on the cycling bridge to the village of Clive, in 1850 a trading post was established here (then known by its Māori name Waipūreku) it rivalled Napier for a brief period for development of Napier's Port, due to Clive's vulnerability to flooding it never came to pass. Meaning of place name Clive Hawke's Bay has many names that recall British soldiers who served in India. The name Clive was probably given by John Curling, who was associated with Sir Charles Napier at the Court of the Rajah in Scinde, in honour of Robert Clive, hero of the defence of Arcot.

Option: venture into Clive for a cuppa or turn left towards the sea cycling under the bridge – toilets to your right elevated on the reserve: follow the river to East Clive where the Tukituki River meets the sea between East Clive and Haumoana, known as the Tuki Tuki Estuary – with over 60 hectares it includes Grange Creek and all the wetlands and associated riparian margins between the lower Tuki Tuki stopbanks for a distance of 800m upstream from the mouth. The estuary is recognised as a significant area within the Hawke's Bay Regional Coastal Plan and is a recommended area for Protection under the Department of Conservation's Protected Natural Areas Programme.

A range of bird species can be found here along with other migrants and occasional visitors also turn up from time to time. A restoration project by Hawke's Bay Regional Council aimed to improve the nesting areas.

Visitors are asked to keep to marked tracks within the estuary and when off the tracks take care where walking because of nesting birds.

On arrival at Black Bridge you have cycled a total of 19.2kms from Bike About Tours base. Once across the bridge, take the pathway to your right then turn left at the tee junction cycle under the road bridge and join the riverbank pathway cycling through the estuary on way to the sea – ensure you go to the end of the pathway to enjoy the fantastic view towards Napier, toilets in the Haumoana Domain

The seaside villages of Haumoana & Te Awanga were developed as holiday settlements, the surrounding area has historically been used for sheep and cattle grazing and horticulture. However, lifestyle blocks and grape growing have become more prominent in recent times. Keep an eye out for numerous Art & Craft studios as you cycle through these seaside villages.

(50) Beach House Wines (Pink building in photo) is a family owned boutique winery with vineyards in the Te Awanga and Gimblett Gravels regions of the Hawke's Bay. They are famous for barrel fermented Chardonnays - their range has grown to include Riesling, Pinot Gris, Gewurztraminer, Sauvignon Blanc, Rosé, Syrah, Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Cabernet & Malbec blend, Montepulciano and a Noble Sauvignon Blanc.

(49) Elephant Hill Winery & Restaurant

At Elephant Hill we have a strong drive and belief in sustainability and the preservation of the land. We're passionate about caring for the land that has been entrusted to our care and we tread as lightly as possible on the earth. Water is one of our most precious resources and we have installed our own state-of-the-art biological water treatment system that allows us to recycle winery waste water back into valuable clean water. Wildflowers are planted in the vineyards and creek banks to contribute to the beauty of the property and attract beneficial insects for biodiversity.

Established by Tim Turvey and Helma van den Berg almost 30 years ago. Against all the odds they have built up the Estate, planting vines and trees, establishing the restaurant. Today the business remains proudly family owned and operated. Tim oversees the vineyards and works with winemakers Matt Kirby & Rob Bregmen to create the legendary, much awarded wines. Helma manages the finances and visual branding, restaurant, gardens, and personnel with her team. Steeped in pioneering winegrowing history, the winery has become an iconic and awarded as a destination for both locals and visitors from afar.

Lunch options: Elephant Hill Estate Winery, *Clearview Winery, Rod McDonalds Wines, Gannet Bar & Grill, Hygge Clifton Bay Café,

Continue cycling through the village of Te Awanga

On a private road to your right near Road end is Summerlee Station - purchased in 2002 by US billionaire Julian Robertson who converted part of the property into the exclusive Cape Kidnappers 18 -hole Golf Course and Resort, it takes its name from the nearby headland of Cape Kidnappers a craggy, but stunning, peninsula named in commemoration of an incident during Captain Cook's 1769 voyage. Maori traders seized Cook's Tahitian cabin boy who they thought was being held against his will. When Cook's men fired on the Maori canoe, the cabin boy escaped and returned to the ship. The iconic pale cliffs of Cape Kidnappers are viewable from the full length of Marine Parade in Napier, and are especially eye-catching in the late afternoon sun. Note: Permission has to be granted to go into this property - not ideal for biking!

The Gannet Bird Colony @ Cape Kidnappers is the world's largest, most accessible mainland gannet colony which is at the top of the Cape's sheer and barren cliffs surrounded by the sea on all sides. Gannets have been nesting there since the 1870s.

Options: to see the Gannets - Overland experience with Gannet Safaris Overland or a tractor ride along the beach with Gannet Beach Adventures.

Continue cycling to *Wool World and (10) Hugge at Clifton Bay Cafe beside the sea at road end.

Option: On the way back via East Road visit Hawkes Bay Farmyard Zoo and/or *British Car Museum,
